AMERICA PERFORCE BEGINS TO MAKE HER OWN DYESTUFF

CAN ALL BE MADE IN AMERICA

Germany Held the Business
Because of Chemical Skill and Price-cutting Practices

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

The dyestuff situation has shot into national prominence. Dyes are conspicuous by their absence. We are confronted with the tragic possibilities of pink overalls and white uniforms on black clothes. A dye shipment had to be specially arranged for with the blockading powers to keep our friend and comforter,
the dollar bill, his old familiar green.

Affects 2,000,000

The real significance of the situation lies deeper than these pictureesque details that have caught the public eye. The dye shortage affects every one of two million workmen who manufacture annually products valued at five billion dollars,
as well as all the people dependent on them, and the immense amount of capital invested in factories and plants.

One cotton manufacturer in his testimony before a committee investigating the situation stated that if he could not be assured of an adequate dye supply within six months
he would have to discontinue business, and cancel his order for four million pounds of cotton yarn. The leather industry, the paper trade,
the manufacturers of paint, straw
work and wood work, shoe dressing
and a long list of similar articles have all felt the shortage.

Can Make Own Dyes

Luckily, the chances that the situation will go to lengths where manufacturers have to cancel orders are small. We need dyes, and we can not import them. Therefore we must manufacture them. We have the raw materials, and while our technical skill in the line may not be up to that of Germany, who has specialized in it for decades, still we are quite efficient enough, and we will learn as we go. Any American manufacturer of dyes whose plant is running today can't complain about business. But after the war comes the rub.

Before the war our dye industry
could not compete with that of Germany. That is why we haven't any dye industry to speak of today. The situation is no reflection on American manufacturers. It is due to a

BRECKINRIDGE CANNOT SUPPORT HAYS PLAN GARRISON IS QUIET

Former Assistant Voices Resigned War Department
Complete Disfavor With Head Says He'll Not Take Stump Against Wilson.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—In a statement prepared for the United Press, Henry S. Breckinridge, who resigned as assistant secretary of war, today outlined his views on army plans now before congress,
which led to his retirement as well as that of Secretary Garrison, whose policy Breckinridge supported.

Interests Selfish

"It is inadvisable to build a military policy for the nation upon the state militia, because to rest the defense of the nation upon forty-eight little armies over which the national government has not and cannot obtain control, is to tamper with the country's safety.

"AD" CAMPAIGN TO "BOOST" CHURCHES PLAN OF PASTORS

Protestant Leaders Meet
and Decide to Employ Business Methods to Build Up Congregations

"Go to Church on Sunday" will be not only preached in La Crosse during the ensuing year—it will be AD-VERTISED.

This was the unanimous decision reached by the Protestant pastors of La Crosse at a meeting held at the First Congregational church last evening.

Rev. E. C. Dixon was named as chairman and Rev. J. H. Benson as secretary, and with these two H. Clay Evelson were constituted a committee to discuss plans, cost and advertising methods, and to report to a meeting to be held at 8 o'clock Thursday evening at the Congregational church.

Most of the pastors and many laymen were present at the meeting last evening, and the discussion proved deeply interesting. Proceedings were largely informal, and nearly all present participated. The point of the undertaking was to get people to go to church, and it was decided that this is business and should be reached by business methods.

"And He said unto them, 'How is it that ye sought Me? What ye sought
I must be about My Father's business'," quoted Reverend Dixon, and with that example in mind they, too,
went "about the Father's business."

The plan is not that once tried in La Crosse, to pick out a certain Sabbath and name it "Go-To-Church-Sunday," but to pound the pleasure and profit and duty of church-going into all who can be reached, week
after week, until churches are built up just as great private business houses have been built up by advertising.

A HAM'S A LOVELY VALENTINE

To whom shall you send a valentine?
The old patron saint of lovers expects you to give an account of yourself Monday, for that is St. Valentine's Day, and who would be blessed with love should give free expression to love upon that occasion.

And how better can love prove itself than by sending a valentine to those who dwell in the La Crosse Home for Women and Children?

It has become an annual custom, this valentine shower for the Home on the good saint's day. There's a world of sentiment in a ham, it's for a dependent orphan or an aged mother in distress. The Board of Managers of the Home have made a special announcement of their needs, which are pressing, and they appeal to your generosity.

Try and learn to think of these things as valentines, and send them to the people in the La Crosse Home:

Meats, groceries, clothing, clothing materials, coal, bedding, flour, money or checks.

The dependent mothers and children will love any of these things, so they must be valentines—valentines upon which the good Saint will smile with more favor than upon pearl and fine gold given to those who have no need.

There will be no ceremony or program at the home this year, but members of the Board of Managers will be there and keep open house for all who honor the institution with a call.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 11.—
On and after March 1, the central powers will declare they will attack
armed merchantmen without warning.

The action of the central powers
was determined when it was learned that the allies will shortly make formal announcement refusing to disarm merchantmen. The notice was conveyed to Secretary Lansing by Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, and Baron von Zwiedinek, the Austrian charge d'affaires.

The United States, it was stated
on highest official authority today,
cannot protest the announced sea
policy of the Teutonic powers to sink
armed merchantmen without warning.

That this government, believing
the Teutonic nations to be within their rights in this respect, shortly will issue a warning to all its citizens not to travel on belligerent
ships that carry guns of any kind,
seemed certain.

No Grounds for Armament
This position must be taken, many officials declared today, if America's

CHANCELLOR'S SPEECH HOPEFUL

If Plans for Truce Fall Through Delegates Would Try to Eliminate Some of Horror

BERNE, Switzerland, Feb. 11.—
The first definite move to end the world war was made here today
when the permanent committee to establish lasting peace met to formulate proposals for an armistice.

Peace advocates from several neutral countries were in Berne for the meeting.

The committee hopes to obtain the consent of the belligerents to an armistice at least two weeks before the spring campaigns bring fresh slaughter in Europe. They believe if the guns can be silenced for two weeks the fighting will never be renewed.

Several peace leaders said they were encouraged by the German chancellor's recent reichstag speech to believe that Germany will give benevolent consideration to any plans for an armistice. If they fail in their plans for a truce they hope at least to suggest a program to the belligerents designed to eliminate
some of the more horrible features of the war. One suggestion is that the belligerents pledge themselves to conduct no more air raids upon cities behind the battle fronts.

Prince von Buelow, former German chancellor, Prince Hohenlohe, and Baron von Kraft have arrived at Lucerne. It was reported today they are in touch with the peace movement here.

Ford Tribunal Meets

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—The Ford
permanent peace tribunal held its first regular session in Stockholm
today according to a cable dispatch to American news associations from the Ford publicity department,
with Mayor Carl Lindhagen of Stockholm presiding.

Mayor Lindhagen, in his address opening the conference, praised the efforts of Henry Ford to bring about a re-adjustment of political and economic forces for the common good.

RESIGNATION IS A SURPRISE

Hay Says He Never Thought Differences Were of Proportions to Cause a Cabinet Break

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—"Secretary of War Garrison's resignation will have no effect on congress." This was the curt declaration today
of Representative James Hay of Virginia, chairman of the house military affairs committee, the storm center of the controversy which caused Garrison's summary withdrawal from the Wilson cabinet.

Hay would not discuss personal questions and disputes affecting himself and Garrison. He would not comment on reports of old feuds and differences in army policy. But he declared the house military committee will go ahead with its own program of army reorganization.

"Congress is the legislative branch of the government," said Hay. "It gives due consideration to any suggestion or proposals from the executive branch, but by the constitution,
congress is reserved the right to finally decide legislative questions."

When Hay was asked to comment on the Garrison statement in his letters to President Wilson that the federalization of the militia and discard of the continental scheme was a sham, a mockery for national defense, Hay retorted:

"General Wood, former chief of staff, said the continental army was a 'sham and stop-gap.'"

Intimates Plan is Shelved
Hay plainly intimated that the continental army scheme is definitely
and finally on the shelf.

"We will conclude our hearings
on the army and militia reorganization bill today," said Hay. "We hope to have the bill out within ten days or two weeks. Secretary Garrison's resignation will not affect the judgment of the committee."

Hay said he had no intimation that the dispute over the continental army
plan had reached such a serious stage that it should cause another break in the president's cabinet.

Agree on Enlistments

That he and Garrison had not disagreed over the question of long or short term enlistments in the army,
was stated by Hay.

"The secretary did not advocate
shortening the enlistment term, as General Wood and many other officers have said," said Hay, who favors
a long term enlistment.

Garrison's resignation will not prove a blow to the general cause of national defense, Hay said.

"Some say preparedness is one thing and some another," said Hay.
"I think the committee will bring out a bill which is generally satisfactory to the administration and to congress with real progress for preparedness."

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Under the caption "Party Suicide," the New York Times (Democrat) in commenting on the resignation of Secretary Garrison says:

"With all the stars of heaven
fighting in its favor, with a renewal of its lease of power at the fall elections practically assured, the democratic party is at the mercy of its own congress, which has taken as its inspiration and its exemplar
the obstinate and stupid little beast universally employed to represent it in the symbolism of caricature. Secretary Garrison is free to resign, the president cannot resign. Yet the refusal of congress to accept the continental army part of the plan of preparedness is as much a rebuff to the president as to his secretary of war."

Secretary Lane, Henry M.
Pindell and Ex-Governor
Walsh Mentioned
Prominently

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The president this afternoon issued a formal order designating Major General Hugh L. Scott,
chief of staff, to act as secretary of war "for a period not to exceed thirty days, or until a successor shall have been appointed and qualified."

A new secretary of war will be named in the next twenty-four hours.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Lindley M. Garrison, Secretary of war and his assistant, Henry C. Breckinridge, have resigned. Their resignations were tendered President Wilson late yesterday, and their acceptance was announced late yesterday
evening.

Refusal of the president to insist upon acceptance of the continental army plan generally opposed in congress and Mr. Garrison's disapproval of the Philippine independence bill
as it passed the senate are understood to have been largely responsible for his decision to quit the cabinet.

The immediate cause, however, as believed today, was that Secretary Garrison considered humiliating a request from the president regarding a speech he was scheduled to make yesterday afternoon before the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Garrison, the president wrote him,
"should feel no hesitation about expressing his personal views on both these subjects (The Philippines and national defense) but," he added, "I hope you will be kind enough to draw very carefully the distinction between your own individual views
and the views of the administration."

Opposed Clarke Amendment

The Garrison letter to the president, which drew forth this request,
written Wednesday, said the secretary considered the Clarke amendment to the Philippine independence
bill, which gave the islanders charge of their own affairs in two to four years, an abandonment of the duty
of this nation and a breach of trust
to the Filipinos.

Regarding the strong chances of passage of the Hay militia bill, in the same letter Secretary Garrison wrote: "I consider the reliance upon the militia for national defense an unjustifiable imperiling of the nation's safety. It would not only be a sham in itself but its enactment into law would prevent, if not destroy,
the opportunity to procure measures of real, genuine national defense. I could not accept it or acquiesce in its acceptance."

Resented Hay Attitude

The attitude of Chairman Hay of the house military affairs committee probably was more keenly resented by Garrison than that of any other responsible congressional leader.

After Garrison had completed his plan which he thought would eliminate the two chief objections to the present militia system, he found in the Hay bill actually entrenched the conditions to which he objected.

First of all Garrison favored a plan whereby officers of state guards
should be under a national board of officers to test their efficiency.

Appointment of officers by governors for political favors or their selection by men in the ranks he considered fatal to any plan of military effectiveness. He put this situation up to the convention of national guard officers in San Francisco, but his plan was turned down. Later he found that Hay had decided to stand by the state guardsmen and also to

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

THE OTHER SIDE

BY KEITH KENYON.

(Copyright, 1916, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Miss Witherow had come of one of those very old Southern families reduced by the war, and it was natural for her to look down upon anybody born north of the Mason and Dixon line. Add to that a difference of opinion about a proposition in plane geometry and you have—or rather Miss Witherow had, or thought she had—two very good reasons why she should consider Professor Warrencourt entirely beneath her notice.

In spite of his dignified title, the professor was not old, not even middle aged, and he was very good looking. Also, he was very much in love with Miss Witherow, in spite of the fact that she gave him no opportunity to show it.

He lived in a quiet little brick-paved street that had sumac trees down either side, and the little dull two-story brick houses behind the trees all touched shoulders like a row of toy soldiers in a box, as straight and prim and proper as their very respectable occupants.

Right next door in another tin-soldier house lived Cora Witherow. And although she had lived entirely alone since the death of her father, the professor, helpless male, had a house keeper in the form of Maggie McGill, whom he had brought with some of the good old pieces of furniture from the big old homestead up North. But Charles (the professor) and Cora had one taste in common—they hated flats and boarding houses and they liked the little quiet street with its toy houses.

Charles had never been inside of Cora's house, much as he coveted an invitation to spend an evening in the little parlor next door. How could he know that even before the geometry affair Cora would never have thought of having a man caller unchaperoned. One time he had taken her to a literary meeting in the high school chapel, but even after he rang her bell he was only permitted to stand in the hall a minute while she buttoned her glove.

Dark, foggy, rainy days of November passed and a wonderful snowy December. Christmas holidays took Charles to Vermont and Cora to Virginia. January had not improved the conditions and finally February first started at Charles from his desk calendar one morning and he realized that a third of a year had passed since he had had a friendly word with the pretty teacher.

He thought of a valentine, then, spurned the idea. She would think such trash silly twaddle—bad enough for the youths they taught.

He was becoming taciturn and intolerant with his classes and was being dubbed a crank. At home, Maggie McGill was trying everything from creamed sweetbreads to lobster a la Newburg to bring back his appetite, but of no avail.

Cora Witherow, blissfully unaware of this state of affairs carried her head higher than ever and went her way. But one night her pretty head ached and she went to bed feeling lonely and wretched. One would have wondered how any one could be miserable in such a lovely place as her gray and old room, which looked, when the dainty occupant was in her canopy bed, like the abode of the sleeping princess herself.

Finally she fell asleep and all sorts of visions passed through her brain. Her head, she dreamed was hurting dreadfully and as she hurried to a doctor a baby somewhere began to cry. She looked everywhere, but could see no one, but as she hurried on the walls of the baby followed.

Suddenly a man began to sing, at first in a low droning voice, then louder until the noise hurt her aching head. She started to run to get away from the sound, but it followed her. Then the baby started to cry again and the singing and crying pursued her no matter how fast she ran. On she flew, faster and faster, and then she fell—and woke up.

She realized then that she was in bed, that her head was aching frightfully, that somewhere near a real baby was really crying and that a masculine voice was singing "Solomon Levi" as hard as it could.

She listened. Never before had she known that the partition between the two houses was so thin, for the crying and singing were right on the other side of the wall and distinct enough to be in her own house. She was puzzled. A baby at the professor's? What did that mean?

Then the singing stopped but the yelling continued. All at once her telephone rang downstairs. She slipped out of bed, threw on a kimono and went down. It was the professor's voice that answered her trembling, "Hello!"

"Is that you, Miss Witherow?"

"Yes."

"This is Charles Warrencourt. I—I'm in trouble. Do you think you could come over?"

"Why—I don't know, professor. What is the matter?"

"Can't you hear? Don't you hear that baby yelling upstairs. I think it's dying. For Heaven's sake do come quick!"

A baby! And he said dying. There was only one thing for it—she must go. She flew to her room and got into some clothes and in an incredibly short time was in the house next door. Charles in dressing gown and slippers, came down stairs with his screaming burden and dumped it into Cora's arms with a sob of relief. "For Heaven's sake, what's wrong with it?"

Cora gathered the little mite up close to her breast and started to

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 10.—"Their own evidence shows the railroads can operate on an eight hour day if they choose."

That was the assertion made today by D. L. Cease, editor of the Railway Trainman, who cited statistics gathered by the railroads showing that three years ago 78 per cent of the through freights on the western classification territory operated on an average schedule of 8.38 hours per day. Cease produced the figures as a come-back to railroad officials' assertions that trains could not be operated on an eight hour schedule without adding $100,000,000 to the annual payroll.

REYNOLDS' BROTHER SUICIDE

PREDICTS CROSSING OF OCEAN BY AIR IN FIFTEEN HOURS

The new aeroplane will have several engines to minimize the danger of a breakdown in mid-ocean, he said, and widespread and multiple planes. Its horse-power will be computed by thousands instead of hundreds.

THE VALUE OF TRUTH

Truth in business is just as important as truth in every-day life; truth creates confidence, establishes good-will and builds a reliability that will not be wrecked by the storms of competition.

Through three generations people have learned to place reliance on the advertised words of Scott's Emulsion, because they are untarnished, unexaggerated truths about a household remedy of real and actual worth.

The popularity of Scott's Emulsion is increasing as intelligence advances, because in these days of adulterations it continues to guarantee pure cod liver oil medicinally perfected with glycerine and hypophosphites to build strength, improve the blood and strengthen the lungs. It is free from alcohol or opiates—a wholesome food- tonic, truthfully advertised.

Paying for the Auto

"We must have a car!" declared Mother.

Those upstairs De Puysters have one.

We'll pay for it some way or other. As everyone seems to have done.

Poor Father demurred, but quite vainly.

For Mother was hot on his trail. So Pa bought the motor, a big, yellow bloater.

That looked like the Overland Mail.

Then Ma and the girls started touring.

While Pa gave his trousers a yank. And hustled like crazy securing Extension of time from the bank.

He mortgaged the farm and the horses.

He mortgaged the oats and the hay.

The chickens he'd wake up and give them a shake-up.

To make the mlay twice in one day.

He took Brother Jim out of college. And set him to work with a flail.

For money is worth more than knowledge.

When debts must be met without fail.

Poor Pa slaved from Monday to Monday.

And got up each morn with the sun.

To pay the motor Ma wanted to tote her.

Because the De Puysters had one.

GAS KILLS THREE

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 11.—When Mrs. Martin Skarus smelled gas yesterday she investigated and found three men dead in the same bed. A gas jet was found to be faulty.

NEWS NOTES from MOVIELAND

Margaret Gibson, recently elevated to stardom by David Horsley, will make her debut as a featured player in a five-reel production called "The Soul's Cycle."

In theme the play is unique. It treats with the ancient philosophy that in the immortality of the soul many cycles must be relived to round out its perfection, and when one defies the divine law he must go back to first principles, and even into animal form, to work up again to his former estate.

Two epochs are included in this picture. First is portrayed the life in old Grecian times in the graceful circle of a polished Grecian senator. The second half of the picture has its setting today, centuries later, and the characters are the reincarnated souls of the people about whom the first half of the picture revolves.

Kelsey and Shannon Stars in "The Sphinx"

Herbert Kelsey and Effie Shannon, two popular stage stars, will shortly appear in a Red Feather photoplay called "The Sphinx."

Fascinated by the charm and beauty of a noted dancer, commonly called "The Sphinx," a young artist deserts his fiancée and gives himself up to the perils of a mad infatuation. The woman's accepted lover is the boy's father, and each plays the game of love unknown to the other. It's a big theme, handled in a masterly manner by these well known artists who are supported by an excellent company. The scenic environment is said to be beautiful and awe-inspiring, fully in keeping with the excellence of this romantic drama.

Edith Storey, Antonio Moreno, Lillian Burns, Donald MacBride, Marion Henry, Josephine Earle and Templer Saxe have been selected by Vitagraph Director George D. Baker to portray the leading roles in the C. N. & A. M. Williamson story he is about to put into production. It is a five-part drama and when completed will be released as a Blue Ribbon feature.

Annette Kellerman's big film play being made in Jamaica is not yet finished, but already has cost be-

Margaret Gibson.

She was born in Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 14, 1896. Has been an ingenue up to this time. She's an expert at horseback riding and swimming.

Between $100,000 and $500,000 (say the producers). That's nothing. Billie Burke's second picture, a serial by Rupert Hughes, is to cost the producers, they assert solemnly, not a cipher less than $1,000,000.

Valli Valli, who is not a corset or a perfume, but a popular movie actress, appears next in "Her Debt of Honor."

Every woman is herewith informed that in Francis X. Bushman's name the X stands for "Xavier."

WE MAKE OUR OWN THRILLS

Did it ever occur to you that in our failure to give expression to our patriotism by such outward signs as rising to honor the flag or in the presence of national airs, we are depriving ourselves of a great pleasure?

We pay out millions every year for thrills. We attend theaters and musical programs for the thrills they give us. And did you ever experience a more delightful thrill than that which accompanies any massed demonstration of patriotism?

Those who have been in a vast audience, which, inspired by song or emblem, sprang to its feet, uncovered, responding to the impulse as a single body, have felt that thrill. How it stirs and how it thrills! That feeling of unity, of power, wells up and swells up until, did one not cheer, one's very breath would be crowded out.

WHAT LA CROSSE HAS AT STAKE

To those who doubt the advisability of city support for the La Crosse Shippers' association we commend the following paragraph from the comparative table showing rates of this and other northwest cities:

Furniture carloads, La Crosse to Pittsburgh, Pa.—76c per 100.
Furniture carloads, Eau Claire to Pittsburgh, Pa.—62c per 100.
(The Hackner company is the chief sufferer.)

The Eau Claire dealer actually ships through La Crosse, at fourteen cents per hundred less than we pay for the shorter haul. Certainly, that is not fair to our dealers, but one asks why the La Crosse dealer should expect other citizens to help him fight for a fair rate.

To us the answer is simple and conclusive. This is but one of many incidents in which La Crosse is a victim of discrimination.

We pay more than other similarly situated cities to get goods and materials into La Crosse, and on these goods and materials the consumers, largely citizens of La Crosse, ultimately pay the freight.

We pay more than other cities similarly situated for shipping our products to the market, and every citizen suffers in consequence. Unless we can ship in our materials and ship out our finished products as cheaply as other cities hereabout, the other cities will get most of the new factories, and their factories will prosper and grow faster than ours. More and larger factories mean more people employed, larger payrolls, more extensive retailing, advance in the value of the little homes our people own—a general growth and prosperity in which every active, interested citizen must participate.

Of course the shippers are most directly benefited, and should bear much of the burden. So far they have borne it all, and they are willing to carry the bulk of it. But every citizen should pay something based upon his expectancy of sharing in the general advantages both by reduced cost of what he buys and enhanced prosperity and expansion, and the only fair and comprehensive plan is to let non-shipping citizens' modest contribution come from the tax fund into which shippers and other citizens have paid their just pro rata.

Nor should we lose sight of the fact that as one of the largest single shippers in the city, the municipal government is vitally interested in freight rates beyond their influence upon private purses, general prosperity and city expansion, and that based upon its active shipping business alone the city's appropriation is far from excessive.

"CHAMPIONS" AND JUDGES

What men have done, men can do, and best illustrations are the things we see at home where we know intimately the surrounding circumstances.

It is being said of Mr. Brandeis that he is too much the champion to become the unbiased judge.

That same thing was said of Judge E. C. Higbee, when his appointment to the bench was urged. Probably La Crosse has had no more spirited advocate of those causes which he deemed just than was Judge Higbee in the years of his practice before the bar. We deem it no impertinence to recall an incident in which, aroused by Shyster trickery, Lawyer Higbee's resentment became so apparent that a Chicago practitioner sought asylum behind the broad shoulders of the presiding judge.

Yet we doubt if there is anywhere a court from which considerations of personal relationship and the influence of environment and personality are more scrupulously eliminated than in this judicial district.

We are inclined to the opinion that the present objection to Mr. Brandeis is occasioned not so much by his having been a "champion" as by the character of the things he championed. Corporation lawyers who were "champions" in their advocacy have passed unscathed under the scrutiny of the senate into the supreme court.

Young Men Especially

The "persistent one" was growing desperate. "Will you marry me?" he blurted out. "If you don't I will hang myself in your front garden."

"Oh!" she replied, "don't do that; father doesn't like folks hanging about."

It's human nature to be inquisitive but some people are more human than others.

THE TRIBUNE'S DAILY TRAVELETTE
(By Niksah)

Salamanca

Christopher Columbus is one of the better known gentlemen of history, but comparatively few of his admirers know that in his day he swung around the Chautauqua circuit. After getting back from his little jaunt to the West Indies, Christopher lectured about his experiences, just as less enterprising travelers do today.

He gave his lectures at the University of Salamanca, which was a sort of European Harvard in 1492. The little red-brown town of the same name has grown and shrunk through the years according to the fortunes of its university.

Then the institution boasted ten thousand students and an army of professors; Salamanca hummed with fifty thousand people. Today the university faculty has nineteen members, and the town dozes through the years in spite of its half dozen railroads, waiting until the school shall regain its lost prestige.

One of the finest bull-rings in all the world is located at Salamanca, but nowadays the city can only afford a bout on very special occasions. The item of expense makes it necessary for her to do without horses in her bull-ring, so that the spectacle without its most distasteful feature for the visitor.

But the audience—they dot the empty benches like a few faithful fans turning out to see the home team practice. The mayor sits in the box of state in his shirt-sleeves. A practiced eye can see at a glance that the house is what they call on Broadway "principally paper." The guarda civil is out in force, and they come in on the strength of their uniforms. It is a far cry to the times when the place was crowded with gayly-decked gallants and soft-eyed señoritas. Most of the empty seats are peopled with the ghosts of by-gone days.

Perfectly Safe

"Safety first" seems to be the motto of some of the judges in the West Indies. When an alien prisoner is brought before them they consider the possibility of a gunboat from the culprit's native land popping in to make trouble.

It is told that a Haiti magistrate on examining a prisoner found that he was from Switzerland.

"Switzerland," he mused. "Switzerland has no seacoast, has it?"

"No seacoast, your honor," said the interpreter.

"And no navy?"

"No navy, your honor."

"Very well, then," said the judge. "I'll give him a year at hard labor."

Clarksburg, W. Va.—"I am writing to tell you the good your medicine has always done me and I hope my letter may be the means of helping some other suffering woman. When I was 16 years old I caught cold and had suppression for two months. I got so weak I could scarcely drag myself up the stairs. I went to two doctors, then my mother got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took it. I never had any more trouble and got strong fast. Then I took it again before my little girl was born and it helped me a good deal and I give the Compound the credit for it. Then this spring I felt very badly again, but I took the Compound and have been well all summer. I cannot be grateful enough for your medicine."

"Nine-two-six, if you please. Yes—yes, who is this? Ah, yes. It is I, Jaimihr Khan. Is all well with you? Good! And Bishop? Slain coming down the Rock—good also!"

Crandall groaned. The Indian continued unperturbed.

"Verree good! Listen closely. I can not come as I have promised. There is—work—for me here. But all will be well. Take down what I shall tell you." He read from the slip of paper on the desk. "Seven turns to the right, four to the left—press! Two more to the left—press! One to the right. You have that? Allah speed you. Go quickly!"

"Room D!" Crandall had leaped from his chair.

"Correct, my General—Room D," Jaimihr smiled as he stepped away from the telephone, his back against the double doors. The sweat stood white on Crandall's brow; his mouth worked in jerky spasms.

"What—what have you done?" he gasped.

"I see the general knows too well," came the Indian's silken response. "I have given the combination of the inner door of Room D in the signal tower to a—friend. He is on his way to the tower. He will be admitted—one of the few men on the Rock who could be admitted at this hour, my General. One pull of the switches in Room D—and where will England's great fleet be then?"

"You yellow devil!" Crandall started to rush the white figure by the doors, but his flesh quailed as the round cold muzzle met it. He staggered back.

"We are going to wait, my General—and you, American Sahibah, who have pushed your way into this affair. We are going to wait—and listen—listen!"

The general writhed in agony. Jane, fallen into a chair by the far edge of the desk, had her head buried in her arms, and was sobbing.

"And we are going to think, my General," the Indian's voice purred on. "While we wait we shall think. Who will General Crandall be after tonight—the English sahib who ruled the Rock the night the English fleet was blown to hell from inside the fortress? How many widows will curse when they hear his name? What?"

"Jaimihr Khan, what have I ever done to you?" The governor's voice sounded hardly human. His face was blotched and purple.

"Not what you have done, my General—what the English army has done. An old score, General—thirty years old. My father—he was a prince in India—until this English army took away his throne to give it to a lying brother. The army—the English army—murdered my father when he tried to get it back—called it mutiny. Ah, yes, an old score; but by the breath of Allah, tonight shall see it paid!"

The man's eyes were glittering points of white-hot steel. All of his thin white teeth showed like a hound's.

"You dog!" The general feebly wagged his head at the Indian.

"Your dog, my General. Five years your dog, when I might have been a prince. My friend goes up the Rock—step—step—step. Closer—closer to the tower, my General. And Major Bishop—where is he? Ah, a knife is swift and makes no noise."

"What a fool I've been!" Crandall reeled in his chair, and passed a trembling hand before his eyes. Sudden rage turned his bloodshot eyes to where the girl was stretched, sobbing, across the desk. "Your man—the man you protected—it is he who goes to the signal tower, girl!"

"No—no; it can't be," she whispered between the rackings of her throat.

"It is! Only a member of the signal service could gain admittance into the tower tonight. Besides—who was it went with Bishop down the Rock after dinner tonight? And I—I sent Bishop with him—sent him to his death. I told you he was. I warned you he was playing with you—using you for his own rotten ends

Boost

Boost your city, boost your friend.
Boost the lodge that you attend.
Boost the street on which you're dwelling.
Boost the goods that you are selling.
Boost the people round about you.
They can get along without you.
But success will quicker find them
If they know that you're behind them.

Never!

"Why, I would just as soon think of taking my stenographer home with me."

Second Boy (proudly)—Well, he ought to be like my paw. He says he doesn't have to pay any.

Not Like a Plate

Mrs. Crimsonbeak—I see plates made of compressed paper are being made. Falling on the floor, or other rough usage, does not harm paper plates.

Mr. Crimsonbeak—But if a woman couldn't break one over her husband's head I shouldn't think it would seem like a plate.

Just Looking On

"The officer says you were interfering with public traffic," said the judge.

"But, your honor, my chauffeur was putting on a tire," replied the automobile owner.

"I'll fine you $10."

"Fine me, judge? Why, I was only an innocent bystander!"

Can't Beat the Irish

"We have the finest and tallest policemen in London that the world can produce," said an Englishman.

"The policemen in Edinburgh are so tall that they can light their pipes from the street lamps," said the Scotchman.

"Shure, now, the peolers in Dublin are that tall they have to stand in a coal pit to have their hair cut," said the Irishman.

—using you to help kill forty thousand men!

It needed not the sledge-hammer blows of the stricken Crandall to batter Jane Gerson's heart. She had read too clearly the full story Jaimihr Khan's sketchy comments had outlined. She knew now Captain Woodhouse, spy. The Indian was talking again, his words dropping as molten metal upon their raw souls.

"Forty thousand men! A pleasant thought, my General. Eight minutes up the Rock to the tower when one moves fast. And my friend—ah, he moves verree—verree fast. Eight minutes, and four have already passed. Watch the windows—the windows looking out to the bay, General and Sahibah. They will flame—like blood. Your hearts will stop at the great noise, and then—"

A knock sounded at the double doors behind Jaimihr. He stopped short, startled. All listened. Again came the knock. Without turning his eyes from the two he guarded, Jaimihr asked: "Who is it?"

"Woodhouse," came the answer.

Jane's heart stopped. Crandall sat frozen in his seat. Jaimihr turned the key in the lock and the doors opened. In stepped Captain Woodhouse, helmeted, armed with sword and revolver at waist. He stood facing the trio, his swift eye taking in the situation at once. Crandall half rose from his seat, his face apoplectic.

"Spy! Secret killer of men!" he gasped.

Woodhouse paid no heed to him, but turned to Jaimihr.

"Quick! The combination," he said. "Over the phone—afraid not have it right—stopped here on my way to the tower—be there in less than three minutes if you can hold these people."

"Everything is all right?" Jaimihr asked suspiciously.

"You mean Bishop? Yes, Quick."

The Indian picked the slip of paper containing the formula from the edge of the desk with his disengaged left hand and passed it to Woodhouse.

The latter stretched out his hand, grasped the Indian's with a lightning move, threw it over so that the latter was off his balance. In a twinkling Woodhouse's left hand had wrenched the revolver from Jaimihr's right, and pinioned it behind his back. The whole movement was accomplished in half a breath. Jaimihr Khan knelt in agony, and in peril of a broken wrist, at the white man's feet, disarmed, harmless. Woodhouse put three short blasts.

A tramp of feet in the hallway outside, and four soldiers with guns filled the doorway.

"Take this man!" Woodhouse commanded.

The Indian, in a frenzy, writhed and shrieked:

"Traitor! English spy! Dog of an unbeliever!"

The soldiers jerked him to his feet and dragged him out; his ravings died away in the passage.

La Crosse Women Urged to Attend Parcel Post Sale at the Association Tomorrow Afternoon

The Young Women's Christian association today is taking on the appearance of a postoffice and the packages for the parcel post sale of the association, are arriving in every mail, besides which many are being brought to the association direct. There will be no dearth of packages to purchase and the women of La Crosse are earnestly invited to come to the association tomorrow afternoon and buy a package, thus adding their mite to the fund for the maintenance of the institution.

A musical program, in charge of Mrs. Percy Cilley, will be given between the hours of three and four, and coffee and cake will be served under the direction of a committee composed of Mesdames A. Gundersen and O. R. Skaar. The musical program will be as follows:

"In May," Horatio Parker.—Ladies' quartette, Mrs. Watkins, Mrs. Cilley, Miss MacLean, Miss Traue.
"Cheer the Weary Traveler"—Coleridge Taylor.—Mrs. Samuel E. Fellows.

Reading, "Poems by John Macfie," Miss Bessie Hutchinson.
(a) "Rolling Down to Rio," Edward German.

(b) "Mother O' Mine," Frank E. Taub.—Carroll Cobb.
"O Wert Thou in the Cauld Blast," Macdonald.—Ladies' Quartette.

Accompanists, Mrs. Leslie Raymond, Mrs. Cilley.

WOMAN'S PG.
Elite Rub Elbows
With "Tradespeople"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The aristocrats of the capital city are accepting the changed social conditions at the White House, but not without mutterings. The elite must now rub elbows with the "tradespeople" if they are to be in the society swim.

Mrs. Wilson has broken the traditions of a century at Washington. The formalities of rank and prestige, which held iron sway over the various coteries, as in the capitals of Europe, are receiving hard blows. The tendency is toward democracy in society, and not only is this shown at the White House and in the cabinet set, but it extends down the line to the senatorial and congressional sets. The army and navy set stands by its guns valiantly, but condescends now and then to "mix."

Says Woman Suffrage
Would Clean Up State.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 11.—Woman suffrage in Connecticut would clear every nook and cranny out of the state, declares Miss Helen Todd, the California suffrage orator, who is touring Connecticut. She declares that rich men, illiterates, the vice interests and then man who places women on a pedestal are the four chief powers allied against equal suffrage. Miss Todd recently completed a tour, making twenty-three speeches in two weeks.

DICTATES OF FASHION

1830 styles will prevail for spring. Jet is a trimming being pushed to the fore.

A fad for ball buttons of steel is to be noticed on the imported frocks. Suede leather, it is said, will replace the glazed and patent leather for the spring.

Whole bodices or corselets of the jet sequined net are used, and wide bandings of heavy sequins match on the skirts.

A riding costume recommended for the south is of cream silk striped cheviot, trimmed with white, glazed kid collar and cuffs, the buttons of white pearl.

Shoulders are sure to be sloping, with the sleeves slipping down as they will for spring. The sleeves, too, will flare at the wrists.

In the center of the table was an artificial lake, backed with moss with rounded boulders peeping through the green here and there, and surrounded on three sides with tiny ferns and auriacias. On the fourth side, facing the place of the guest of honor, was a flight of tiny stone steps leading up to the level of the lake. Gay flowers here and there smiled and nodded at their reflection in the lake. The lights in the dining room were shaded with red and at either end of the table were candles in red-shaded holders. At each plate were white crocheted nut baskets, a red

NORTH SIDE MAHONEY CLEARED OF SPEED CHARGE BY CLUB'S JURY

Wins Out When Kempter Testifies He Walked to Council Meeting and Beat Paul's Car

"Not Guilty," were the words shouted at P. W. Mahoney last evening at the annual mock trial of the Franklin club, held in Fielstad hall. After a riotous session in which the dignity of the court was frequently lost in laughter.

Otto Schlachach, prosecutor for the state, relied on the testimony of William J. McGaughran, Harry Spence, and Rev. F. A. Clarke. They were sworn in by Clerk of Court J. G. Dubraks. They all stated that they had heard of this man Mahoney and his "Democratic Speed Wagon", and that the photographer, Harry Spence, could only get a blur on the film when trying to take a picture of Mr. Mahoney and his chariot. Mr. Mahoney acknowledged the fact that his car was handed down from his grandfather's estate in Ireland, and had been used there a long time.

Kempter Strong Witness
The defense depended upon the testimony of Sam Johnson, Dr. A. R. Kempter, and Leland Mahoney. Dr. Kempter stated that he had been carried in this car to a council meeting. The car had a great capacity for speed, he said, but it was not fast enough for him. He got out and walked to the meeting and arrived first, he declared. He also stated that he believed Mahoney's car capable of making five miles an hour, or more at times.

What was alleged by the defense to be the engine of the speed demon was produced as an exhibit by Leland Mahoney, from one of his pockets. It made a most damaging effect upon the state's case, when the son of the prisoner explained its workings. He said the motor had one cylinder and two intakes—one for nerve and the other for hot air.

Furious Charge By Judge
A most remarkable charge by Judge Herman Langstadt was a feature of the case. With the evidence and arguments closed the court instructed the jury to center upon giving the culprit the maximum—"or more if possible."

BARBED WIRE FOR RUSS TRENCHES PASSES THE CITY

Reels of Wire with Extra Long Spikes and Farm Tools Bound for Russia

A big shipment of barbed wire bound for the Russian trenches on the east front of the European war zone passed through La Crosse today for Pacific coast ports, there to be trans-shipped for Siberia and European Russia. It is consigned to the Russian government. Employees noted that the wire was armed with extra long barbs, to add to its deadliness in entanglements before the trenches.

With the barbed wire was a shipment of agricultural implements, also consigned to the Russian government. It was believed that the farm tools indicate the government is taking a hand in repairing the damage done by the war to the farming districts of Russia.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed with Sulphur It Brings Back Its Lustre and Abundance.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

CATARRH GERMS
EASILY KILLED

Only Way To Cure This Disease Is To Destroy Its Cause.

If you have catarrh and want to get rid of it you must kill the germs which cause catarrh. Stomach dosing, enemas, sprays, creams, douches, etc., fail because they overlook this fact. They all help by giving temporary relief but they do not reach the germ life that has found lodgment in your head, nose, throat,
and could not destroy it if they did.
The best known way of destroying the dangerous germs of Catarrh and consequently ending the disease is to breathe into the air passages of your nose and throat the pleasant, penetrating air of Hyomei pronounced High-o-mei. Hyomei is made from purest oil of Eucalyptus combined with other powerful,
healing, antiseptic and germicidal ingredients. You breathe it through a little pocket inhaler which leading druggists are furnishing with every complete treatment sold. Every time you inhale the sweet, fragrant air of Hyomei through this little device you are drawing into your swollen, inflamed, germ laden membranes a medicated air which will not only reduce all the swelling and inflammation and open your clogged
nose and stopped-up air passages,
but will absolutely and positively destroy every trace of Catarrh germ life
it reaches. Druggists are so sure of the blessed, lasting relief that Hyomei brings to catarrh sufferers that they sell it invariably on the positive guarantee that money paid with it is refunded if successful results are not secured from its use. Get a Hyomei outfit from your druggist today and begin at once to drive this dangerous and disgusting disease
from your system forever.

JULIA CLAUSSEN
NATIVE OF SWEDEN
Singer Who Appears at the Normal Made Operatic Debut at Stockholm

Julia Claussen, the great contralto, who sings at the Normal next Saturday evening, was born in Stockholm, Sweden, and made her operatic debut at the Stockholm Royal opera. She was engaged by Mr. Andreas Dippel for the Chicago, Philadelphia Grand Opera company for the seasons 1913, 1914 and 1915
and made her American debut as
"Ortrud" in "Lohengrin," meeting with tremendous success. Critics and public unanimous in their praise declared her to be the greatest Ortrud and Brunnhilde of the present day.

In the spring of 1914 Mme. Claussen accompanied the Chicago Grand Opera company to the Pacific coast,
and her unqualified success everywhere, in both her operatic and concert appearances, has put her in the foremost rank of the world's greatest artists.

On the tenth of last month Mme.
Claussen appeared in Milwaukee as soloist with the Chicago Symphony orchestra. Writing in the Free Press, Mr. Harrison Hollander, Milwaukee's most discriminating critic,
said:

Last night's concert by the Chicago Symphony orchestra at the Palast theater brought to a hearing
an all-Wagner program, with Julia Claussen as the soloist. If the following chronicle may seem ebullient
at times we hope to be pardoned,
for never has the singing of an artist
moved us so profoundly as did that of Mme. Claussen. It is only natural that a music critic who hears concert after concert throughout a long and busy season is apt
to become blasé and that his emotions are not easily stirred. But the kind of art that the Swedish mezzo soprano displayed was sufficient to penetrate the soul of the most callous reviewer.

The audience was not tardy in its expression of appreciation and Mme.
Claussen was recalled many times
every number.

It may be added that every seat
in the theater was occupied, and that many hopeful ones were unable to secure admission.

Everyone admires a man of mettle,
provided there is not too much brass.

policy of co-operation among the German manufacturers, and between the manufacturers and the German government, which our trade laws
make it impossible for us to duplicate.

Germans Slashed.
When the Germans sold some particular dye at a high price, an American manufacturer would sometimes try to compete with them. Then the Germans lowered the price of cost,
and below, and the American factory
had to meet their price and take the whole shock of the low figure. In Germany it was distributed among all the factories, so none of them felt it much. Hence American capital has been slow to go into dye works, and now that dyes are selling at fancy figures, capital is not much more eager, because after the war
the same old situation will crop up.
A dye works represents a heavy investment.

The solution of the dilemma which seems in a fair way to be adopted is
the protective tariff for dyestuffs.
There is a bill before congress now providing for such a tariff. Members of the house and senate representing both political parties have come out in favor of the measure.
The textile manufacturers who opposed a similar tariff in 1909—it was brought up by the dye manufacturers at that time—are flooding congress with letters now, urging
the adoption of the pending bill.

Dyes Necessity.
The manufacturers opposed the measure before because it would increase the cost of dyes over what it is under normal conditions. Nobody believed seriously in 1909 that the German supply would be cut off.
A protective dye tariff, said the cloth men, would benefit the dye industry at the expense of their own.
The present state of affairs shows
the desirability of being independent
in the matter, even if independence
has to be paid for. The dye supply is a minor but indispensable factor in industries at hundreds of times factor.
As one of the advocates of the dye tariff put it, we will be paying five or six million dollars a year—which is what he estimates the increased cost of dyes under the new tariff
will come to—as a sort of insurance against finding ourselves again suddenly dyeless.

It is a known fact that capital is ready and available to multiply our dye production capacity as soon as it is assured that the industry will be adequately protected against post
bellum competition from Germany.
Within six months domestic plants
would be able to meet domestic demands. In the meantime, there is a good supply of dyestuffs in the country which speculators are holding for a rise. With production assured in the near future these dyes would be thrown on the market and tide over the interim.

Huge Price Leaps.
The dyestuffs have taken some of the most amazing jumps in price that these war times have seen. One manufacturer tells of paying $40-000 for dyes that he could buy normally under $3,000. Sulphur blacks, formerly 18 cents a pound, are quoted around $2, and the supply is limited
at that. Statistics furnished by four big manufacturers of colored cotton goods give an average price
of 37 cents a pound before the war
for dyes that are worth $4.50 now.
Colored cotton will be high this season, and you can look for white as a popular color in spite of laundry
bills.

A point in favor of multiplying domestic dye works is the ease with which they can do a quick-change
act and emerge as full fledged munition works. The head of one of the biggest dye plants in the country says that "his works could be transformed into a powder plant
on ten days' notice, and turned back into a dye works in another ten days
when the need of powder was past.
He says also that a capital of fifteen million dollars is waiting to multiply the capacity of his plant by ten, if the new tariff bill passes. The same facts, both as to munition making potentialities and prospective enlargements, are true of other plants.

Britain Backs Plant.
England has acted on this close relation between powder and dye
making by backing the "British Dye works, Ltd." to the extent of fifteen million dollars since the war began.
This plant will supply the dye needs of the government, and can turn to making powder at any time.

In Germany the encouragement
and protection that the government gives the dye industry is reciprocated
by a tacit agreement that the resources of the factories will be ready to hand in a national emergency. Exact figures are not available, but it is estimated that 60 per cent of the German dye works are making munitions now.

There is no industrial reason why
the United States should not manufacture her own dyes. Modern colors are derivatives of coal tar, and coal tar is a by-product of the coke ovens. We have coke ovens in sufficient numbers to supply the raw material for all the dyes we need.
Germany won her near-monopoly of the business by a combination of high chemical skill and industrial co-operation, not through and favor of natural resource.

Few Made in U. S.
Out of 912 colors in commercial demand, only seventeen were being manufactured in the United States before the war. Less than 10 per cent of the consumption even of those seventeen was produced by the home manufacturer. And not one of the seventeen was produced entirely in the United States. They were made by working on and combining different "intermediates"—German intermediates.

But the American chemist and the American manufacturer have shown in the last year that they can produce and carry the dye on its whole course from bituminous coal to ball

gown. They have turned out all the most complex colors at a cost not much higher than Germany was doing it before the war. This difference in cost is what the dye protectionists want to cover in their tariff.

Coal tar is available for making a host of things besides dyes. It is a sort of purse of Fortunatus, out of which the chemist can take almost anything he is looking for. High explosives, photographic chemicals, flavoring extracts, medicines—all these can be made from coal tar "crudes." The work done on the coal tar derivatives represents some of the highest achievements of chem-istry. Many of the compounds are of dizzying complexity, and call for the most expert skill and the widest theoretical knowledge in their use.

It is a fair assumption that much of Germany's high position in chem-istry, that stands her in such good stead both in peace and war, is due to her big interests in the coal tar products. A similar stimulus to scientific progress in America would have effects more far-reaching than we yet realize.

EIGHT PER CENT ENOUGH PROFIT
DECLARES KNEEN
Warns Wisconsin Telephone Men That Excess Should Be Spent in Improving the Service

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 11.—That an assured investment of 8 per cent on the investment in telephone property would seem to be fair and reasonable was the statement made by former Assemblyman E. J. Kneen of La Crosse county before the Wisconsin Telephone association this afternoon. Many of those present believed that the rate of return should be higher, in view of the fact that the business is hazardous, but Kneen backed up his argument with a statement of existing conditions.

Favored By State.
"Telephone utilities in this state, since the passage of the non-dupli-cation act, enjoy a very favored position," declared Mr. Kneen. "It is no longer necessary in Wisconsin to provide a rate of return based in part on the large expense and pos-sible losses involved in competitive public service business. The territory of each company is amply protected by law. The return should be computed upon the true valuation of the property."

"If the utility earnings are in ex-cess of this, such excess should be promptly used in distributing im-provement to all classes of service, or, if the service is exceptionally ad-equate, in the lowering of the rates to a basis heretofore indicated."

Warns of Public Ownership.
Mr. Kneen declared that any ef-fort on the part of owners of tele-phon companies to demand a rate of return greater than 8 per cent would ultimately result in municipal or government ownership.

"Although it is apparent to all of us that the telephone business, especially for local service, is ill adapted to public ownership, man-agement and control, it might come," declared Mr. Kneen. "Excellence of service, courteous treatment of the public, fair and open financial deal-ings, and satisfaction, with a rea-sonable and moderate return upon the investment are the safe-guards for the continued private ownership and management of telephone prop-erties."

cessor, they began in the right way by causing a break in the cabinet at the very inception of the campaign.

The World (Democrat) says: "Secretary Garrison's resignation is the more deplorable at such a critical time as this, because it is without adequate cause."

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out. They weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a teaspoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because no body can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

Who is Chairman? "Buck" is Passed To City Council

It is up to the city council to decide who is the republican chairman in the Second ward. Secretary Lucien Reid of the republican county committee "passed the buck" today, and reported to the council for confirmation two sets of election officials appointed by Carl Ruplin and Reinhold Schultz, in the list of nominations from the other wards of the city.

The question today has simmered down to an issue of law. The problem is:

"Can the county committee appoint a ward chairman when the electors of the ward fail to choose one, or does the incumbent hold over?"

Examination of the county committee records, Secretary Reid said today, discovered that Mr. Schultz had been appointed at the first meeting of the committee after the election two years ago. But he was in doubt as to the legality of the appointment. So, as stated before, he "passed the buck."

OPPOSITION OF HAY TO ALL HIS PLANS DISQUIETING FACTOR

pay them. It is known that Garrison considered this whole proposition as unwise spoils politics.

Wanted Direction From Washington
His second objection to the present militia is that it is governed from forty-eight different centers and has forty-eight different standards of efficiency. He wanted it all directed from Washington.

Garrison did not propose to eliminate the national guard, or to substitute the continental army for it. But he believed his plan of a volunteer army of 400,000 controlled from Washington would attract young men who would enlist in the militia. He planned to enlist 133,000 men each year for a term of three years, and to train them under regular officers near their own homes in summer camps. They would receive regular pay while on duty. The estimated annual cost was $45,000,000. State guardsmen believed this plan surely would encroach upon their preserves. Some regular army officers believed that so many men could not be obtained except by compulsion.

Scott Acting Secretary
Major-General Hugh Scott, chief of staff of the army, today is acting secretary of war, while President Wilson is making up his mind regarding a successor for Garrison.

General Scott, however, will not attend the regular Friday cabinet meeting today, it was said at his office. It would be "unusual" for him to do so, was the explanation given.

Today speculation as to Garrison's successor was buried beneath consideration of the differences between the retiring war secretary and the president regarding measures of national defense. That Garrison, regardless their differences to be principled, not merely of methods, it is agreed, is shown.

Successor to Be Democrat
Announcement will be made of Garrison's successor within twenty-four hours. He will be a democrat.

This information came from the White House. It appears a "dark horse" probably will be chosen. Those close to the president declared none of the men most prominently mentioned so far would get the vacant post. The president decided, however, that necessity political and legislative, requires prompt filling of the cabinet vacancy.

Many Notables Mentioned
A score of democratic notables were mentioned in gossip today regarding the place. Most prominent were Secretary of the Interior Lane, Henry M. Pindell, Peoria, (Illinois), editor; Representative Swager, Shelby, Kentucky, in charge of war department fortifications in the house; Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt; Former Governor Walsh of Massachusetts; Former Governor Harmon of Ohio, and Former Governor Alva Adams of Colorado.

Representative Tague of Massachusetts today asked the president to appoint Former Governor Walsh. Ohio democrats were urging Harmon.

To Be Hay Supporter
That the next secretary will be a man who can work with Chairman Hay of the house military committee was asserted on authority. One report was that Secretary of the Interior Lane might be transferred to the war office, and former Governor Adams of Colorado, or Joseph N. Teal of Portland, Ore., appointed to succeed Lane. White House authority gave little prospect, however, of Lane being chosen.

Regarding Pindell, democratic leaders discounted prospects of his selection, because of his opposition to former Secretary of State Bryan. Pindell belted Bryan twice when Bryan was the democratic presidential candidate. It was not believed the president will choose any one either openly or impliedly anti-Bryan. The political consideration is that the president desires to hold the Bryan wing in congress and Bryan men among the rank and file.

Goethals Not Strong
It was authoritatively stated General Goethals, governor of the Panama canal zone, is not being regarded for the war post.

Representative Sherley is uniformly regarded as especially equipped for the vacancy. For many years he has had charge of army sea coast fortifications and artillery appropriations in the house.

Sherley denied today any knowledge that he was being considered.

Lillian Haines Denies in Toto Charges Made by Mrs. Nack and Aged Porter

The Four Mile House, the old Cord Smith North Salem road resort, was ordered closed for one year under the Linley law by Judge O'Neill yesterday afternoon.

In making the order Judge O'Neill decided against C. H. Nack and C. J. Smith, proprietors of the house, who were charged with having used it for immoral purposes. The decision came at the close of a circuit court trial lasting most of Thursday, in which Nack and Lillian Haines, a woman employed by him, numerous others testified. Chief witnesses against the character of the house were Mrs. Anna Bennett, and Henry Baldwin, seventy-three year old porter at the place.

Lillian Haines, about whose conduct the case centered, entered a flat denial of all the charges against her in connection with Nack, made by Mrs. Nack in her divorce suit.

FRENCH ATTEMPT VAINLY TO TAKE LOST POSITIONS

LONDON, Feb. 11.—Violent French counter-attacks northwest of Vimy and south of the Somme have failed to recapture any more of the positions taken by the Germans, the Berlin war office announced this afternoon.

On the eastern front the German war office reported repulses of onslaughts by a strong Russian detachment north of Dryssyady lake.

guard forces in the preparedness program was indicated today when Chairman Chamberlain of the senate military affairs committee announced he believed the state guard must be the nucleus for a general defense program. In this he agrees with Hay.

Chamberlain favors, however, a modification of the present guard system.

"By employing the usual forces of congress, I believe we can practically federalize the various national guards," said Chamberlain.

"I believe we can bring all guards to a single standard of efficiency, minimize the effect of local politics in the guard and gradually increase this organization's effectiveness."

MAN WITH "EVIL FACE" SOUGHT IN DEATH MYSTERY

Death Due to Subtle Poison; Authorities Find No Traces of Violence and Hold to Suicide Theory

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Feb. 11.—Photographs of an unknown man's footprints in the snow and the description of a youth with "an evil face and staring eyes" were the only clues today in the mysterious death of pretty Marian Lambert, an 18-year-old high school girl whose body was found in the woods on the estate of Harold F. McCormick, south of Lake Forest, yesterday afternoon.

Assistant State's Attorney D. M. Runyard declared he is convinced that the young woman, a pretty high school student, took poison while in the presence of a young man.

Footprints Are Found
Two sets of footprints were found in the snow where the body lay, one Marion's and one of the stranger. There was no bottle or vial which had contained poison in the vicinity of the body.

"There is no doubt," said Runyard, "that a man was with her in the woods. The footprints show that beyond a doubt."

Other authorities said they believed Miss Lambert was despondent over an innocent love affair.

Discovery of a loaf of bread, a few feet from the spot where Miss Lambert's body was found, furnished another puzzle today.

Runyard said this afternoon that Marian's chums declared the girl had said that William Orpet, a student at the University of Wisconsin, had called her by telephone Tuesday night. Dispatches from Madison, Wis., indicated Orpet had not left that city during the week.

YOUNGEST MEMBER OF BOARD DRAWS THE BEST SALARY

Hanson Can Get $1,200 Yearly and Vollmar and Schnell May Have But $1,000 Rules Attorney

TWO IN OFFICE WHEN RAISED

Hanson Was Not Elected Until Last Spring when the Boost of Salary Had Taken Effect

Carl Hanson, in point of service the youngest member of the existing board of public works, is entitled to a salary of $1,200 a year, John Vollmar and Fred Schnell, the president and secretary of the board can draw only $1,000 annually. This was the ruling of City Attorney J. E. Higbee this morning, in a written opinion, filed with Mayor A. A. Bentley, discussing the status of the board.

As in the case of the public library and the shippers' association appropriations, the mayor, Comptroller William J. Fries, City Clerk E. H. Hoffman and Treasurer George Young had refused members of the board the increased salary, despite the council's order, because of their determination to put an end to illegal payments from the city treasury. Today's opinion confirms them in their stand.

The point made by City Attorney Higbee in his opinion is that it is illegal to increase the salary of city officials during their incumbency. Hanson was elected last spring, after the council had boosted the pay of the board of public works. Vollmar and Schnell were then in office. Under the city attorney's ruling, they can collect no more than $1,000 yearly until the expiration of their present terms, a year from this spring.

BRITISH FIGHTERS IN BATTLE ARRAY AWAITING TEUTONS

United Press Correspondent

Spends Day on Dreadnought Tiger in the North Sea

BY WILBUR S. FORREST
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
WITH THE BRITISH BATTLE CRUISER SQUADRON, SOMEWHERE IN THE NORTH SEA, February 11.—Huge British cruisers, the fleetest scouting vessels and a whole host of mosquito craft are formed in constant battle line here, headed toward the sea.

They are jammed with men. Everything is in readiness for instantaneous response on the day the wireless cracks out: "The German fleet is coming out!"

Through courtesy of the admiralty, I was enabled to spend a day aboard the giant battle cruiser Tiger and the smaller cruiser New Zealand. The Tiger not only is larger than any dreadnought in the United States navy, but has a speed of thirty knots an hour. The Germans believe they sank her in the battle off Dogger bank on January 24, 1915. This report is said to have been taken to Germany by a Zeppelin that hovered 10,000 feet above the sea, bombarding British sailors while they were rescuing survivors of the German battle cruiser Blucher. The Zeppelin crew is said to have taken the sinking Blucher for the Tiger.

Scout ships for the British battle cruiser squadron are constantly at sea. They have accounted for several submarines which have attempted to enter the English haven.

HUNDRED POISONED AT BANQUET GIVEN FOR ARCHBISHOP

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—One hundred guests at the banquet last night in honor of Archbishop George William Mundelein are ill today from ptomaine poisoning. They were stricken shortly after the soup course was served. Health authorities today ordered an investigation. None of those poisoned were in a serious condition today.

ALLIES WILL NOT YIELD

It was stated on reliable authority today that England and her allies under no circumstances will yield the right to arm merchantmen for defensive purposes, a practice recognized by all nations.

It is not believed here that the United States, having already recognized this right, will change her policy in the middle of a great war.

Should a German or Austrian submarine, acting under the new instructions, torpedo without warning and sink a British or French liner, carrying American passengers, the United States, it is believed here, will take prompt and decisive action.

attitude is to continue to be logically followed out. The American attitude regarding arming of merchantmen, it became known for the first time today, was clearly set forth in the informal suggestion it recently made to the entente allies concerning the "absence of conditions now, which in earlier times was the excuse for arming of merchantmen." These reasons were presence of privateers and pirates on the high seas.

None of the powers addressed, Secretary Lansing said today, has replied to these suggestions. He said he assumed their delay was caused by the obvious necessity of joint deliberation of the question. The English, however, unofficially have expressed themselves unalterably opposed to any suggestion that would put their merchantmen at the mercy of the submarines. In informal statements high officials at the British embassy have indicated their belief that England and her allies would never consent to this.

Despite this known opposition, it was admitted at the state department today one of the effects of the Teuton decree will be announcement that this government will abandon its recent temporary rulings regarding armed merchantmen, even in the event it is known a few German commerce raiders are at large on the high seas.

Gerard to Get Announcement
Ambassador Gerard probably will be handed today Germany's formal announcement of her intention to attack armed merchantmen without warning after March 1, it was said at the German embassy.

A similar communication will also be addressed at the same time to the state department through Ambassador Penfield at Vienna from the Austrian foreign office.

A feeling of hopefulness that the state department will shortly make an announcement disclaiming responsibility for American citizens traveling on armed merchantmen prevails among the central power diplomats. This feeling, it is understood, is based upon information from the state department.

London Predicts Trouble

LONDON, Feb. 11.—New issues as grave as those revolving about the sinking of the Lusitania may arise between the United States and the central powers, officials here declared today, as the result of the German announcement that all enemy merchantmen will be treated as war ships and torpedoed without warning about February 29.

Allies Will Not Yield

It was stated on reliable authority today that England and her allies under no circumstances will yield the right to arm merchantmen for defensive purposes, a practice recognized by all nations.

It is not believed here that the United States, having already recognized this right, will change her policy in the middle of a great war.

DALLEY STOCK TO OPEN 442-NIGHTER

La Crosse Theater Offers
"The Lure" Which Ran
for More Than Year in
New York City

Preceded by the reputation of being the cleverest stock organization in the middle west the Ted Dalley Stock company will open an indefinite engagement at the La Crosse theater commencing Sunday matinee with the famous Shubert success "The Lure," and the local theatergoers will once more have an opportunity of witnessing real attractions at a popular scale of prices.

Direct from fifty-one weeks at the Avenue theater in Detroit, Mr. Dalley has brought his entire company intact and it is his intention to produce the same plays that proved so successful during the Michigan engagement. The policy of the company will be to produce two big royalty successes every week, the play being changed every Sunday matinee and Thursday matinee, and a complete production will be made of each play, as the company carries a carload of scenery and a complete mechanical staff including a scenic artist.

The play selected for the introduction this evening for the local drama lovers will be the big New York sensation, "The Lure," and as this play has a run of over 442 nights in New York the worth of the attraction is guaranteed.

"The Lure," from the pen of George Scarborough, deals with a vital subject in a manner that leaves nothing undone, and the wonderful truths that the play conveys should be seen and heard by every parent in America.

Seats are now on sale for the opening Sunday, and it is safe to predict that when the amusement lovers realize what a bargain is being offered in the Ted Dalley Stock company's productions the spacious auditorium of the La Crosse theater will not be large enough to accommodate the crowds.

The DOCTOR'S ADVICE by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Ensling Sts., Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name, and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

"Mother" writes: "My son and daughter have reached the ages of 21 and 19. Both of them have grown up quickly and are well formed and strong looking, but they are neither of them strong and active as I had hoped they would be. They are weak and timid. They are listless and forgetful and I am much alarmed over their condition."

Answer: Your children have both grown large at the expense of their strength. Their systems need a good, bracing tonic and builder. Three-grain cadomene tablets will be splendid for them and should make them strong and healthy in a short time.

"Miss C" writes: "I am so light in weight that my friends call me 'Bubble.' I am very thing and pale. I want to increase my weight."

Answer: What your system requires is a good blood and nerve tonic. Such you will find in three-grain hypo-nuclease tablets. Take these tablets with your meals and they will cause proper assimilation of your food. I always recommend these tablets to increase the weight.

"L. Y." asks: "What may I do to get relief from rheumatism?"

Answer: Use the following prescription for rheumatism and you should receive quick and sure relief: 4 drams of iodide of potassium, 4 drams sodium salicylate, 1/2 oz. wine of colchicum, 1 oz. comp. essence cardiol, 1 oz. comp. fluid balmwort and 5 ozs. of syrup sarsaparilla. Mix and take a teaspoonful at meal time and again before going to bed.

"Lucille" writes: "I want to get rid of dandruff and itching scalp. What would you suggest?"

Answer: In my practice I have prescribed the same treatment for seven years to overcome dandruff, and thousands are satisfied there is nothing better than the use of plain yellow minyol. Minyol contains no alcohol, and cleans and vitalizes the scalp. It tends to strengthen the scalp and gives life, lustre and health to the hair.

"R. R. No. 2" asks: "Will you please tell me what is the matter with me and tell me what I may get to make me well? I have constant misery in my back on both sides, have headache all the time, and my feet and limbs, in fact, my whole body, swells. The urine I pass is very little and a kind of dark brown. It seems to be going into my blood."

Answer: You did not say how long you have been suffering, but you have a well-developed case of kidney trouble. Start at once taking balmwort tablets. They should get your kidneys in good order in a little while.

"L. W." writes: "My blood is in bad condition. I suffer with constipation and my tongue is always coated. My skin is dark and I have pimples. I feel tired all the time, but I am too nervous to sleep. Please prescribe."

Answer: Get a tube of three-grain sulphur tablets (not sulphur) and take according to directions. They will clean your blood, aid digestion and relieve constipation. When you get your blood pure, the other symptoms disappear.

"Mother" asks: "What may I give my children to relieve them of colds and coughs?"

Answer: A pleasant tasting and very effective cough and cold medicine is made by mixing with a pint of simple sugar syrup or honey, 2 1/2 oz. essence mentho-laxene. This should break up a cold and drive it out of the system, as the mentho-laxene is slightly laxative in its action on the stomach and bowels. Every one in the family may use this remedy, and it is highly recommended.

"W. W. C." writes: "I have gained so much flesh that I'm all out of proportion and I do not feel good. What will reduce my weight?"

Answer: Five-grain arbolone tablets are the most effective and safest reducers I know of. They are harmless; come in sealed tubes with complete directions.

ASSESSORS DEPART

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 11.—(Special).—The conference of income tax officials came to a close last night with a talk by Secretary A. J. Myrland of the tax commission. He explained the laws passed by the last legislature affecting taxation and then urged the income tax deputies to be more prompt in sending in reports.

Mothers Make This Home Made Cough Syrup

The good, tender, thoughtful mother can make a full pint of the quickest acting, permanent result giving cough syrup which can be used by the whole family for coughs and colds, thus preventing pneumonia, sore throat, diphtheria and other fatal maladies. Just obtain a concentrated fluid known as essence Men-tho-laxene—a 2 1/2 oz. bottle, and empty it into a pint jar or bottle. Then take a pint of granulated sugar and pour over it a half pint of boiling water; stir, cool and fill up the bottle with the syrup. Full directions for making and using are contained on each package. All good druggists sell it, or it can readily be obtained of their wholesaler. Thousands of families are using this because of its cheapness and thoroughness. It contains no poisons or opiates.

OPPOSE SALE OF RIVER POWER SITE

BESSEMER, Mich., Feb. 11.—Petitions are being circulated here protesting against the proposal of the government to sell the reserved fractional lot containing forty-one acres at the falls near the mouth of the Montreal river.

The Gosebic and Iron County Electric Railway and Power company is understood to have plans for the purchase of the land. It owns the opposite side of the river in Wisconsin and probably desires to gain full control of the stream.

Gosebic county has just started to build a new road to the valuable water power site.

BOOM DYING; INVESTORS LOSE

CLEVELAND, Feb. 11.—The gas boom in this vicinity is over. Too many persons wanted to get rich quick, and as a result investors have lost hundreds of thousands of dollars. Experts have placed the gas flow in Cuyahoga county fields at 25,000,000 cubic feet per day. A year ago it was 100,000,000, and the field was rated as the most active in the world. Hundreds of wells, driven at a cost of $6,000 each, are being pulled, and the piping sold for $600. Most of the gas being used here is piped from West Virginia.

Virtue is its own reward. Many a man who does his level best stays on the level.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Two hundred officers, members of crews and passengers of ships captured by the German commerce raider that took the Appam, were among the 630 passengers sailing in the White Star liner Baltic yesterday.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

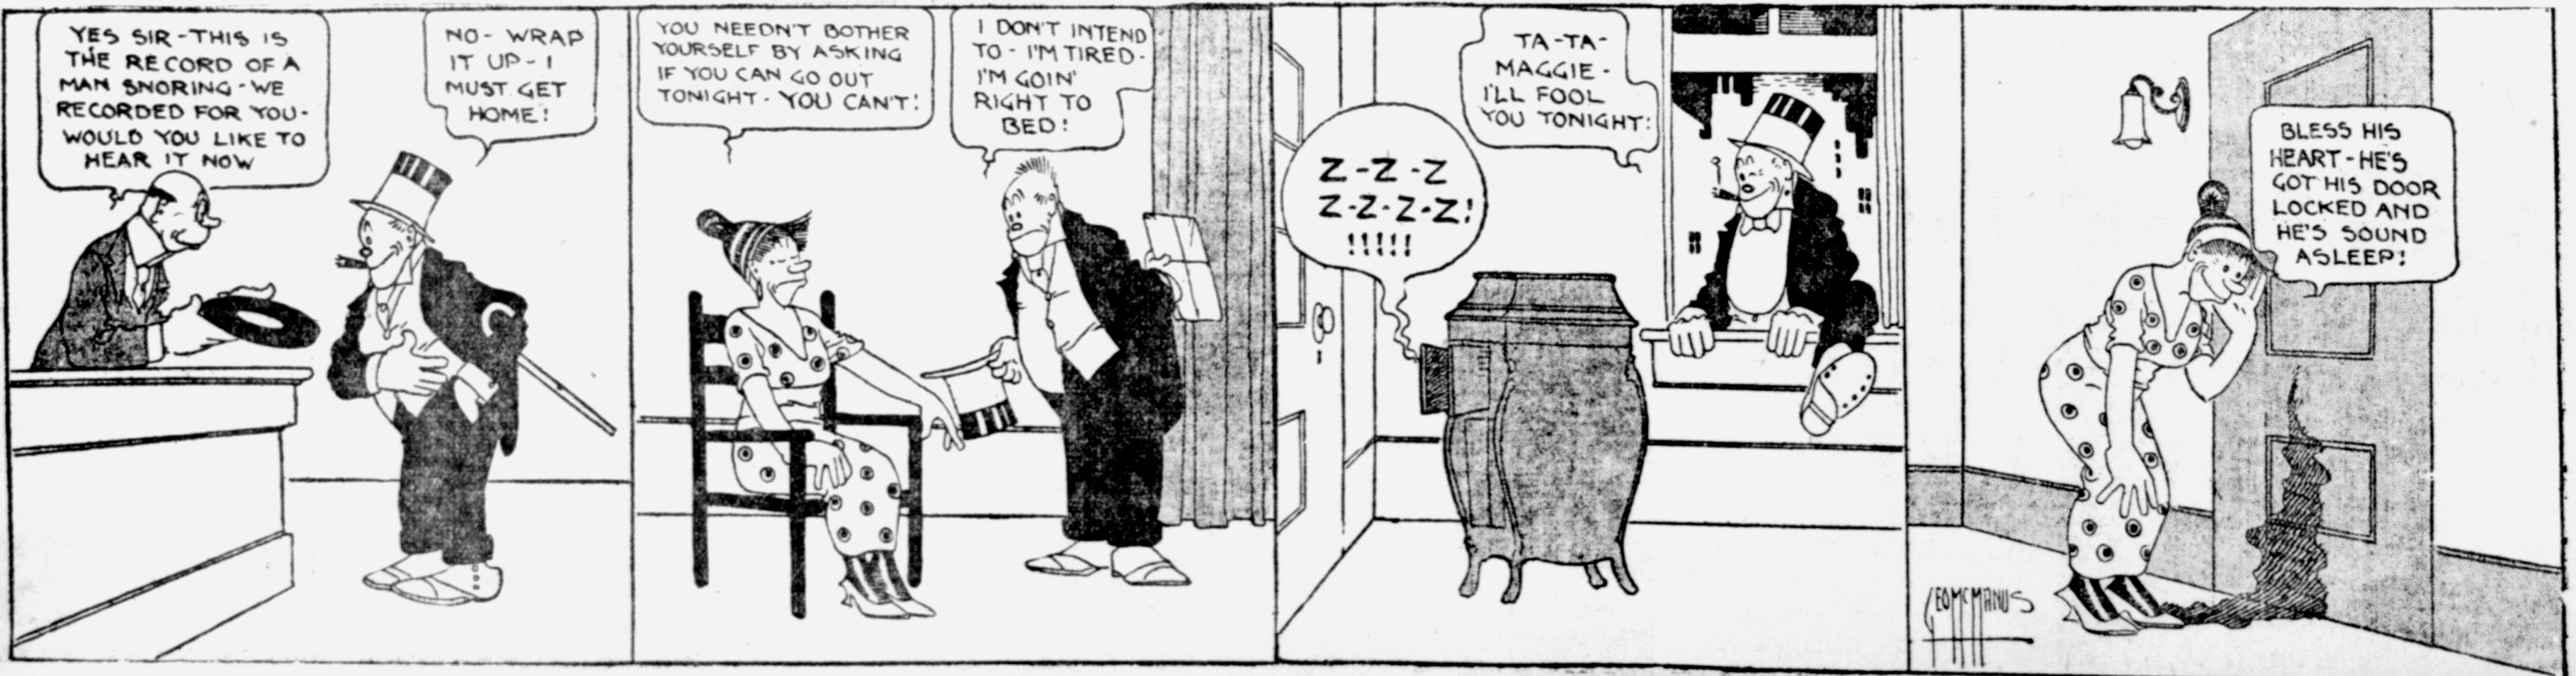

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids.

It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place. Most headaches, "chilliness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.

IF YOU WORRY, READ THIS

Worry never brought any good to anybody. But you say, "I don't worry because I want to. I worry because I can't sleep." Or, "I worry because I have 99 things to worry about."

We all have our troubles and worry, of course, makes matters worse. The patient generally recognizes this fact without being helped in any way by it. The doctor who could meet this nervous condition and cure it would be the most popular medical man alive. But he can not do so because the form of nervous exhaustion known as neurasthenia, of which worry is characteristic symptom, must be caused by the patient himself. That is why you should write today for the book "The Secret of the Nervous System," and read the chapter on "Neurasthenia." So many people have read it and written back, "This hits my case. Exactly, I am going through a trial and being helped. That is the Dr. Williams' Medical Book. Schenck, N. Y. has had a hard time of it, and will send me a copy free on request. Ask for a 50-cent box also if your stomach is off."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a non-narcotic tonic, particularly suited for nervous, neurasthenic people. Your druggist sells them or they will be mailed postpaid on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50.

Class Is Feature Of Exhibits With Aggie School Meet

"Better than ever" was the verdict of experts who saw the exhibit of farm products which was one of the chief features of the Farmers' Institute and Home Makers' conference at the Onalaska agricultural school, held February 3, 4 and 5. The exhibits were more numerous than in the past, and of such high quality throughout that the judges found difficulty in picking the best of the splendid entries.

Just as the corn and grain show was an adjunct of the farmers' institute, a rural school sewing contest was an accompaniment of the home makers' conference. This, a new departure, had entries from practically all the schools of the county, and many clever pieces of needlework were exhibited.

Prizes in the two exhibits were distributed as follows:

SAVE YOUR HAIR! 25 CENT BOTTLE STOPS DANDRUFF

Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Try this! Your hair appears glossy, abundant, wavy and beautiful.

Thin, brittle, colorless and ragged hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scourge.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It rots the hair, the hair's lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness; but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

LAWLESSNESS ON RISE IN MEXICO AMERICAN KILLED

U. S. Citizen Murdered in a Pithed Battle with Five Mexican Bandits

MANY RANCHES ARE PILLAGED

Bandits Thought to Have Participated in Santa Ysabel Massacre in Bands

EL PASO, Texas, Feb. 11.—Lawlessness in northern Mexico is increasing, according to reports reaching here today detailing the murder of Guy Johnson, an American who first killed five Mexican bandits in an uneven pitched battle near Minaca. A raid by Villa bandits at San Juan in which several men were killed and the women carried off was reported.

Francisco Villa and his small band were today threatening the Mexican railroad at a point 100 miles south of Juarez, according to reports received at the Carranzista headquarters in Juarez.

Bandits are pillaging ranches within twenty-five miles of Chihuahua and Durango cities, state capitals. In the Durango bands are said to be some of the men who participated in the massacre of eighteen Americans at Santa Ysabel, January tenth. Following their appearance in the vicinity of Inde, Delores and Magistral, Durango, the ranchmen are reported to have taken their families and hidden in the hills.

Iron Is Greatest of All Strength Builders, Says Doctor

A Secret of the Great Endurance and Power of Athletes

Ordinary Nuxated Iron Will Make Delicate, Nervous, Run-down People 200 Per Cent, Stronger in Two Weeks' Time in Many Cases.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Most people foolishly seem to think they are going to get renewed health and strength from some stimulating medicine, secret nostrum or narcotic drug, said Dr. Sauer, a specialist of this city, when, as a matter of fact, real and true strength can only come from the food you eat. But people often fail to get the strength out of their food because they haven't enough iron in their blood to enable it to change food into living matter. From their weakened, nervous condition they know something is wrong but they can't tell what, so they generally commence doctoring for stomach, liver or kidney trouble or symptoms of some other ailment caused by the lack of iron in the blood. This thing may go on for years, while the patient suffers untold agony. If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while, double their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of all symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form. And this after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. But don't take the old forms of reduced iron, iron acetate or tincture of iron simply to save a few cents. You must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated like nuxated iron if you want it to do you any good, otherwise it may prove worse than useless. Many an athlete or prize-fighter has won the day simply because he knew the secret of great strength and endurance and filled his blood with iron before he went into the affray, while many another has gone down to inglorious defeat simply for the lack of iron.

NOTE—Nuxated Iron recommended above by Dr. Sauer is not a patent medicine nor secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists and whose iron constituents is widely prescribed by eminent physicians everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach; on the contrary, it is a most potent remedy, in nearly all forms of indigestion, as well as for nervous, run-down conditions. The Manufacturers have such great confidence in Nuxated Iron that they offer to forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under 60 who lacks iron and increase their strength 200 per cent or over in four weeks' time provided they have no serious organic trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by Mariner's Pharmacy and all other druggists.

NERVOUS—NO APPETITE

Hartford Woman Tells How She Regained Strength.

Hartford, Conn. "I was run-down, nervous, no appetite, could not sleep, and had no strength, an old lady told me how much Vinol had helped her when in a like condition. I tried it and noticed an improvement within a week. It soon built up my strength, my nervousness disappeared and I can sleep well. I have never found any remedy equal to Vinol to create strength." Mrs. Clara Burr.

It's the tonic iron, the medicinal extractives of fresh cods' liver without oil, and beef peptone contained in Vinol, that makes it so successful in enriching the blood and creating strength for run-down nervous, overworked women.

We have seen such wonderful results right here in La Crosse from the use of Vinol, that we will return the money in every such case where it fails to give satisfaction. Hoechsler Bros. Druggists, La Crosse, Wisconsin.

STUDENTS REGAIN SPIRIT WHEN WIN RESULTS AT SPARTA

Tomah's Defeat of Baraboo on Baraboo Floor Brings Happy Thoughts to Students

Reports of Tomah's 27 to 22 victory over Baraboo last Friday, the first time the Baraboo five has been defeated on their home floor in the last three years, added to the La Crosse victory over Sparta has set the student body a long way toward regaining their old interest in the basketball ringers. Though a good crowd was present at the Madison game only a small percentage of them were students and there was little cheering. Judging from the advance sale of student tickets now, however, Baraboo will meet some real rooting in the game here Saturday night. It will take more than mere rooting to win the game, however, as Coach Horne realizes well. The past week has been one of the hardest kind of practice. Zeisler at forward has been going better than ever before. He, with Layman, Roellig, Reget or Bott makes a scoring combination that shows real "class." Blatter is developing into a standing guard the seconds can not get around.

The seconds are increasing rapidly in strength under the coaching of Mr. Puckett. They held the first team to the score of 26 to 6 last night. Since the class league started five men, Weeks, Cysmanic, Denney, H. Reget and W. Blatter, have been taken from the league. Denney and H. Reget especially have starred. Denney making all of the scrubs' baskets last night. Reget joined the first squad last night.

The tentative Baraboo lineup is: Koons and Warren, forwards; Terry, center; Sprecher and Pearson, guards. A dance will be held after the game.

REAL ESTATE for Sale or Trade

AUCTION SALE OF LAND—Located two miles east of Ettrick, Trempealeau County, Wisconsin. I will sell at public auction to the highest bidder on Saturday, February 19, 1916, at 2 p. m., in the basement of the Town Hall in the Village of Ettrick, the following described property, known as the James McCarty farm:
200 acres—S. W. 1/4 of Section 33, Township 20, Range 7 west, and the S. E. 1/4 of the N. W. 1/4 of Section 33, Township 20, Range 7 west, about 90 acres, under cultivation, more good land that can be cleared very cheaply. Plenty of good second growth timber. The soil is good heavy clay with the exception of a few acres along the road.
Improvements—Seven room house, barn that will accommodate 20 cows and six horses, tank house, granary, corn crib, hen house, two pumps, one wind mill. Come and buy on these easy terms at your own price. With the assurance of the new railroad into Ettrick this land will rapidly increase in value. ## BRAND WHITLOCK AMERICAN IDOL OF ENGLISH CAPITAL

LONDON, Feb. 11.—Under the caption: "Two Distinguished Americans," movie theaters in London are now showing pictures of Colonel House and Minister Brand Whitlock. The crowds display polite interest in Colonel House but break into applause when Whitlock's face appears on the screen. Because of his efforts to save Nurse Cavell in Brussels, Whitlock is perhaps the most popular American in London.

TO DEMONSTRATE NEW ICE MACHINE

Between 2 and 3 o'clock this afternoon and at the same time tomorrow afternoon there will be demonstrated by three La Crosse men, patentees, an auto ice-cutting machine. The demonstration will be given at the Wanninger ice field in the Mississippi river south of the wagon bridge. Interested citizens may see the oddity by crossing the bridge and walking a short distance south along the shore of Pettibone island. The machine, which is self-traveling, combines many of the principles of the farm tractor, is equipped with a 34 H. P. engine and, it is claimed, does the work of many teams.

If a man has a true sense of humor he knows when not to get funny.

NEW HAVEN RISE FEATURES STOCKS

Quotations Up Four Points to 72 and Other Stocks Are Also Influenced

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—The stock market opened today with irregular changes from yesterday's closing prices. Steel was down 3-8, but later was firm around its closing figure. New York Central opened up 1-2 then reacted fractionally. Coppers were active.

Trading was narrow during the first hour and was confined chiefly to Coppers and war stocks. United States Steel sold at 84 7-8, Coppers sold above opening prices and Union Pacific was down a fraction. United Fruit was strong, selling at 130 1-2. The market was professional and gave signs of indecision on the part of traders.

New Haven jumped four points to 72 at 1:30 this afternoon. It was about the only real activity the market had seen. Sales between noon and one o'clock were but 55,000 shares, and prices generally ruled slightly under the day's high in mid-afternoon.

The New Haven advance was followed by a general upward tendency in railroad stocks. The rumor factory in Wall street had it that other cabinet resignations were impending. The market closed steady.

WOULD DIVORCE MATE WHO PREFERS JAIL TO DOMESTICITY

Alleging that her husband told her that he would rather go to jail than live with her, Mrs. Katherine Coulam today filed suit for divorce from Carroll Coulam. The complaint states that the couple were married here in 1914, and that Coulam deserted his wife shortly afterwards. Coulam was arraigned in county court last October on a desertion charge and served sixty days in county jail. He left the city, it is said, at the expiration of his term.

WHEAT MARKET UP CABLES DO TRICK

Corn and Oats Influenced by Foreign Situation and Take a Rise

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—An upturn in the cables frightened the shorts and gave the bulls a chance in the wheat pit today. Early trading was at considerably higher levels and although a slump occurred later, the market ruled about a cent above Thursday's. May up 1 1/4c at the start, lost 3-4c later, going to $1.28 1-4 and July, up 1 1-8c at the opening, dropped 3-8 to $1.21 1-4.

Corn continued to display strength because of the foreign situation. May was up 7-8c early, and though declining 3-8c later, held its advance fairly well, ruling around 78 1-8c. July sold at 77 3-4c.

Oats, strong early on good demand, followed the trend of other grains. May sold at 48 7-8c and July at 46 1-8c.

A good demand for lard and ribs boosted the provisions market.

MRS. RICH DIES AT HER SPARTA HOME

Well Known Woman Succumbs at Age of 83; Music Lovers Gather for Community Singing

ROAD TO RIFLE RANGES REPAIRED

Large Sum Subscribed for Repairing of Stretch of Road; May Bring National Shoot

SPARTA, Wis., Feb. 11.—(Special.)—Mrs. Charles E. Rich died at her home on North Benton street, yesterday morning at 4:30 o'clock. Mrs. Rich had been in poor health for several months. About holiday time she suffered from a severe attack of grip, followed by nervous prostration, from which she was unable to rally.

Her maiden name was Lois A. Griffin. She was born in Eastford, Conn., May 27, 1832 and spent her youth there. Nov. 4, 1848, she was united in marriage to Charles E. Rich and eight years later came to Wisconsin locating on a farm in the near vicinity of Sparta. After many years spent here they moved into the city, where Mr. Rich engaged in the book and stationary business for twenty-two years. He died four years ago, after they had been married 63 years.

Mrs. Rich had been a resident of Sparta for fifty-nine years. Her children are all residents of this place. Mrs. E. R. Williams, Mrs. Robert W. Hutson, Mrs. A. E. Blackman and Mrs. Edna Bristow.

Funeral services were held at the residence on North Benton street today and conducted by Rev. Harding R. Hogan.

Community Singing
The first gathering of music lovers, for the community singing, which has been planned by the Sparta Women's Federation will be held at the high school assembly room, Monday evening.

The program will be opened by music by the school orchestra. Dr. S. D. Beebe will lead the singing and if something necessitates his absence, Rev. C. L. Clifford will have charge. The federation ladies plan to have one of these musicals once a month.

Basket Boys Busy
There will be a basket ball game tonight between Cashton and the Arbonita Guard association team, in this city, which will doubtless be worth seeing, for the Company L team is the championship team in Sparta, having defeated the high school and the Depot Dutch, each by a score of 24 to 20.

A social time and dance will follow the game.

Debaters Lined Up
The Sparta high school debating teams will both be busy tomorrow evening. One team is going to Viroqua, and one debating at home with La Crosse. The question is, "Resolved, that the Policy of Philippine Independence as set forth in the Democratic Platform of 1912, Should be Carried Into Effect."

The affirmative team, which debates at home with La Crosse, is composed of the following members: Alex Nicol, Hubert Harmon, Tyler Barney and Lloyd Sholes, as alternate. Those who go to Viroqua and uphold the negative side of the question, are Carl Berry, Raymond King, Arthur Douglas and Claire Harmon.

A mass meeting will be held tonight to create some enthusiasm.

Royal Neighbors Meet
All Royal Neighbors and their families are cordially invited to attend the supper, dance and card party on Monday evening, Feb. 14th.

Supper will be served at 7 o'clock.

DON'T BE BILIOUS, HEADACHY, SICK OR CONSTIPATED

Enjoy life! Live your liver and bowels tonight and feel great.

Wake up with head clear, stomach sweet, breath right, cold gone.

Take one or two Cascarets tonight and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced. Wake up feeling grand, your head will be clear, your tongue clean, breath sweet, stomach regulated and your liver and thirty feet of bowels active. Get a box at your drug store now and get straightened up by morning. Stop the headache, biliousness, bad colds and bad days. Feel fit and ready for work or play. Cascarets do not gripe, sicken or inconvenience you the next day like salts, pills or calomel. They're fine! Mothers should give a whole Cascaret anytime to cross, sick, bilious or feverish children because it will act thoroughly and can not injure.

PLANT CULTURE—LESSON THREE

Winter Flowering Bulbs—Dutch bulbs, such as Hyacinth, Tulips, and Narcissus may be made to bloom from now on until Easter.

If such bulbs have been kept, after planting, in a dark and cool place and moderately moist the pots should be filled with roots; which is necessary before they are taken to the light. From the time they are exposed to light they should be kept in a temperature of about 70 degrees during the day and 60 degrees at night.

If bulbs are brought to light at this time of year they will require about 3 or 4 weeks to bloom. Later in the season and nearer spring a shorter period of time is required.

For Easter blooming two weeks is all that is necessary.

They demand more water as they grow and should never be allowed to run dry.

After the flowers are open they should be kept in a cool place. This prolongs their life.

Reliable Laxative Relieved This Baby

Child Was Badly Constipated Until Mother Tried Simple Remedy.

In spite of every care and attention to diet, children are very apt to become constipated, a condition responsible for many ills in after life unless promptly relieved.

Mrs. C. W. Wilson, of Shelbyville, Tenn., had trouble with her baby boy, Woodrow, until she heard of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. She writes, "I can safely say Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the best remedy of its kind on earth. It acts so gently and yet so surely. Little Woodrow was very badly constipated and we could find nothing that gave relief until we tried your Syrup Pepsin, which gave immediate relief."

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a compound of simple laxative herbs, free from opiates or narcotic drugs, mild in action, positive in effect and pleasant to the taste. It has been prescribed by Dr. Caldwell for more than a quarter of a century and can now be had for fifty cents a bottle.

WOODROW WILSON.
